

The Housewife's Health Is Precious

The happiness of the whole family depends greatly on the health and strength of the housewife. If she is weak and worn out, fretful and nervous she cannot be the wise and patient adviser of her children, the congenial companion of her husband, the calm mistress of her many trying household duties that she was when in perfect health.

YOUNGEST CONTESTANT MAKING GREAT RACE

The Star's big $3000 prize contest continues to develop surprise, and from indications there will be a succession of them from now on until the end of the great race, on January 27.

One of the interesting features is the rather remarkable results attained by probably the youngest contestant, Arthur Henry Winkley, who within the past few days has jumped his score up to over 50,000, which puts him seventh from the top of the list. Young Master Winkley is but 13 years of age, the son of H. G. Winkley and a resident of that aggressive new community, Kaimuki. He is a pupil of Punahou.

Arthur Winkley is a hustler in more ways than one. At the last poultry show he carried off one of the first prizes for a magnificent Rhode Island red cockerel, which he had raised himself. He is an enthusiastic fancier, and, moreover, doesn't depend upon his parents or hired yard boys to attend to his live stock. He does it himself, and the results prove with what success. He is going at the contest business in the same spirit, and states that he isn't near through yet. He confidently expects to get one of the "Big Ten" prizes, and he is certainly making first-class progress in that direction.

Four-Count Week Passing.
There are but three more working days left before the close of the quadruple count period. This, as before announced, ends at 8 o'clock next Wednesday morning, January 10. After that hour, and continuing for just a week, the count for subscriptions and ballots will be three times the regular schedule, instead of four. From January 17 to January 24 the count will be double, and for the last few remaining days of the contest period it will be but the regular count. Most of the contestants are bending all their efforts to get as many subscriptions as possible as early in the game as possible in order to get the benefit of the multiple credit. There are sure to be some surprises when the standing is published next Wednesday.

Hustling for Bonus Prizes.
The eight extra cash prizes, ranging from $15 to $250, which will be given to the eight contestants securing the greatest number of votes during the two-week period ending at 5 p. m. on Monday, January 15, is also an incentive to extra effort among contestants, just at present. These extra prizes have nothing to do with any other feature of the contest, and every contestant has exactly the same chance to win, regardless of what his score was on January 1.

Quadruple Count.
Here's what contestants are getting in votes for Star subscriptions:

TO TELL WOMAN'S AGE

FEEL HER PULSE

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., December 23.—"Neither coyness nor cosmetics, switches by way of annex to her 'crowning glory,' nor yet the thirty-third degree in the Ananias order will avail to hide a woman's real age from one bent on discovering that point. Her Achilles heel will be her wrist, and foe or friend, by secretly counting her pulse, on whatever pretext, can tell whether she be really young or not," was the contention today of Dr. Blanche Denig of this city. Dr. Denig added:

"The pulse of a young adult beats from seventy to eighty times a minute, a young woman's about eight times more than a young man's, and the pulse of an adult past youth, but not really old, beats about ten beats fewer a minute."

HISTORY OF 1911 TOLD IN BRIEF

AUGUST.

Togo Visits America.
Flight From St. Louis to New York.
August saw the flight of Atwood from St. Louis to New York, the signing of the Anglo-American and the Franco-American arbitration treaties, the visit to America of Admiral Togo, hero of the Japanese navy, and the deaths of Senator Frye, Edwin A. Abbey, the famous painter, and John W. Gates, capitalist. Congress passed the statehood bill, which was signed by the president, and the house of lords accepted the veto bill. On the 5th Roosevelt testified before the steel investigating committee in defense of his action in 1907 approving the acquisition by the steel trust of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company.

SEPTEMBER.

Turco-Italian War Declared.
The Astor-Force Wedding.
This month was replete with news—so much so that the items can not all be mentioned. Among them were the declaration of war on Turkey by Italy, the cause being Tripoli; the John Jacob Astor-Madeleine T. Force wedding, the beginning of President Taft's 15,000-mile trip, the failure of reciprocity in Canada, the acceptance by France of the modifications in the Moroccan agreement proposed by Germany, the assassination of Premier Stolypin of Russia, the spread of the uprising in China. Deserving mention also are the blowing up of the French battleship Liberte, with 235 deaths, and the break in the dam at Austin, Pa.

OCTOBER.

Deaths of Prominent Persons.
Tripoli Invaded.
Steel Trust Suit Begun.
October was marked by the passing away of prominent persons and other events of much importance. Enrolled among the dead were Rear Admiral Schley, Justice Harlan of the supreme court, and Joseph Pulitzer, journalist. Tripoli was bombarded by the Italians and troops were landed, battles ensuing. There was bloody warfare in China between the revolutionaries and the imperialists. On the 26th the government began suit against the United States Steel corporation, naming J. Pierpont Morgan, John D. Rockefeller and others among the individual defendants. Woman suffrage, the initiative and referendum and the recall won in the California election. The Philadelphia

NOVEMBER.

Coast to Coast Flight.
Great Warship Review.
The election results were much mixed, both of the leading parties making gains and suffering losses. The Socialists made gains.
Secretary Meyer reviewed at New York the greatest fleet of American warships ever assembled.
The first aviator to fly from the Atlantic coast to the Pacific was Galbraith P. Rodgers, who completed his flight November 5.
Three American cardinals were created by the pope. They are Farley of New York, O'Connell of Boston and Falconio, who is a naturalized American citizen.
On November 24 Henry C. Beattie Jr. was put to death in the electric chair in Virginia for the murder of his young wife. Among the other events of the month were the continued fighting in China, the resignation of A. J. Balfour as leader of the Unionists of Great Britain and the election of A. Bonar Law to succeed him.

DECEMBER.

The McNamara Sensation.
The Durbar in India.
The great sensation of the closing month of the year, up to the time of the preparation of this article, was the confessions of John J. McNamara, a labor union official, and James B. McNamara that the latter was guilty of the blowing up of the Los Angeles Times building and the former of the damaging by dynamite of the Llewellyn Iron Works. James B. was sentenced to life imprisonment and John J. to a fifteen years' term. The durbar of King George and Queen Mary was celebrated in Delhi, India. John D. Rockefeller resigned as president of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey. The President's message was devoted entirely to the trust question. Russia ordered an advance on Teheran, the capital of Persia, as an outcome of the dispute over the actions of W. M. Shuster, the American treasurer general of Persia. Great Britain is also involved in the matter. The fighting in China went on.

QUAINT PHRASES.

In Basil Hargrave's "Origins and Meanings of Popular Phrases and Names" there are some interesting explanation. The phrase, "every man Jack of them," is explained as a corruption of the archaic "everich" or "every chon" (every one) into "every John" and then "every Jack." "Hobson's choice" goes back to the seventeenth century to Tobias Hobson, who kept a livery stable at Cambridge, Eng., and who would only let out his horses in strict rotation, saying: "This or none." "Point Blank" was the white spot in the center of the target from the French blanc.

SERIOUS SIDE OF A COLD.

Do you know that of all the minor ailments colds are by far the most dangerous? It is not the cold itself that you need to fear, but the serious diseases that it often leads to. Most of these are known as germ diseases. Pneumonia and consumption are among them. Why not take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and cure your cold while you can? For sale by all dealers. MOSQUITO EXHIBIT

An excellent object lesson on the necessity of keeping premises free from stagnant water is furnished by the bottles containing mosquito larvae that are on view in the window of Benson-Smith & Co., the well known druggists.

These bottles are labeled showing that the water, which is reeking with stink, was taken, respectively, from a house gutter, a cesspool, a tin can, a hole in a tree, a catch basin and a water trough.

Dr. E. R. Marshall called on the druggists and left the samples on behalf of the Civic Federation. Already some of the wigglers have emerged into full-blown mosquitoes, but they are held captive by a piece of gauzy material across the mouths of the bottles.
